

CASE STORY

A Game Changer for Greenview Services, LLC

T.J. Buchanan, owner of Greenview Services LLC in Crestview Florida, started offering aeration services this past season. To help get them started with this endeavor, Buchanan purchased a Billy Goat 25" PLUGR® to see them through the sandy soil conditions they are challenged with in Florida. The company offers aeration service to both residential and commercial customers, with residential lawn applications accounting for most of their work.

During their first season running the PLUGR®, approximately twenty aerations were completed. Buchanan attributes the increased number of aerations to the high productivity of the machine along with the easier operation of the unit. "The machine is far superior to any 'traditional style' aerator, as there is much less fatigue and it is far easier to maneuver", Buchanan says. "Not having to repetitively raise and lower the tines like on drum units while making every turn is a back saver" he adds.

The hydro-drive and cam-driven tine system also add to the aerator's performance. According to Buchanan, "The cam driven tine system provides a far superior result in comparison to other models I have used, and in combination with hydro-drive, the machine's productivity has allowed increased billable time on a daily routing."

Greenview Services, LLC, is very satisfied with their 25" PLUGR and the volume of aerations they were able to do this year. They've found that the unit provides the best quality for their application and settings compared to other aerators on the market.

